ESSAY TASK

“La seule constante c’est le changement.”

Heraclitus

Considérez l’évolution de la société moderne en Ecosse et en France, et examinez les changements du dernier siècle.

Vous pourriez considérer les changements en ce qui concerne:

- le rôle de la femme
- la politique (surtout en France et en Ecosse)
- le monde du travail
- les droits de l’homme

“Change is the only constant in life.”

Heraclitus

Consider the evolution of modern society in France and Scotland, and examine the changes that have taken place throughout the last 100 years.

You could consider the changes that have taken place around:

- the role of women
- politics (especially in France and Scotland)
- the world of work
- human rights

This essay competition is open to learners of French who are working at Advanced Higher level. Your essay should be no longer than 500 words in length. Your essay can be discursive or narrative in style. You can choose to examine wide-ranging changes which span the entire century; alternatively you could focus on particular periods during the last century where changes have been distinctly notable or influential.

Whatever the style or format, a winning essay will demonstrate flair and passion, a command of language and evidence of research. Bon courage!
