Don'ts

In the Classroom & Competition

- Don't require completion of all resources before entering the competition — schools can enter without using every material first.
- Don't rely on English when learners are filming drills or presenting posters — encourage target language use throughout.
- Don't use PowerPoint/slide decks or scripts for the final presentation at the competition — the final presentation should be delivered live without relying on slide show technology. Cue cards may be used, but not scripts.
- Don't neglect the PE element; the initiative is designed to combine physical activity with language learning.

Tips for Success

- Mix vocabulary practice with practical drills to help students consolidate learning in a real-world context.
- Use authentic materials (videos about players, cultural resources) to spark discussion and cultural awareness.
- Coordinate with PE colleagues early to plan seamless interdisciplinary lessons.
