'I thoroughly enjoyed every week and it was great to put myself into my daughter's shoes. Mr Struth made the lessons fun, interesting and I have learned loads in such a short time.'

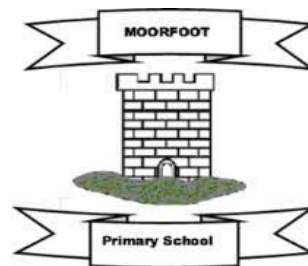

It's our final Spanish for Parents online class tonight. Only one hour until we will find out who the winner of our gift voucher will be! It has been lovely working with some @KinrossHS parents on their Spanish for the past six weeks! 🇪🇸

Lessons learned

- Discovering & using technology that will continue to enhance the learning experience.
- Teachers are incredibly creative and adaptable, and children are very resilient!
- The lockdown experience has changed how we work, and a return to 'normality' will look different as a result of this.

Reflective questions.

- What does parental involvement/engagement look like in your context?
- How are you supporting your parents to become involved and engaged in their children's learning?
- As a result of lockdown, do you think parents will be more involved/engaged with their children's education and learning?
