

For teachers in complementary and heritage language schools

Branching out with languages

Bilingualism Matters and SCILT, Scotland's National Centre for Languages are offering a series of free, online professional learning workshops for teachers in complementary and heritage language schools, based in the UK and beyond.

The Bigger Picture

Wednesday 31 January (5-6pm)

The basics of bilingual language development and the role of teachers, parents and communities.

The Language Learning Buzz

Thursday 22 February (5-6pm)

Strategies to engage and motivate learners, both online and in the classroom.

The Supportive Classroom

Wednesday 20 March (5-6pm)

Strategies to support learning and encourage positive mindsets within a group of mixed ability learners.

Sign up here!

